CERTUS

Certus completes 50th acquisition in less than three years.

Certus has crossed another growth milestone by completing its 50th acquisition since May 2019. Now operating in 10 states, the company has enjoyed exponential growth over the last three years.

Certus is known for its flexibility, ease to work with, and for helping owners navigate the selling process, finding the best ways for them to move to their next adventure. With this formula for success, Mike Givlin, CEO, and co-founder of Certus, is enthusiastic about the company's potential.

He commented “We’ve built an amazing team over the last three years, growing nearly ten-fold. I’m excited about both our growth and future potential. This industry has thousands of family owned businesses and entrepreneurs who have successfully nurtured and grown their companies but are now ready for their next chapter. Certus is here to help them make those dreams a reality.”
